Furskins are regarded as raw and falling in this heading not only when in the natural state, but also if cleaned and preserved from deterioration, e.g., by drying or salting (wet or dry). The fur may also be "pulled" or "sheared", i.e., the coarse hairs extracted or cut down, or the skin surface may be "fleshed" or scraped.

Pieces of furskin and parts such as heads, tails and paws, in the raw state, are also classified in this heading unless clearly waste material not suitable for furriers' use, in which case they are excluded (heading 05.11).
